

Robert A. Alexander

Retired Senior Vice President, PNC Bank

Robert A. Alexander is a Retired Senior Vice President of Commercial and Residential Construction and Permanent Real Estate Lending for PNC Bank and former Cincinnati Regional Executive Director of National City Community Development Corporation. The forty (40) year split career of Mr. Alexander in the thrift and commercial banking industries emphasized affordable housing, community development and urban redevelopment lending and investing with particular expertise in federal and state governmental funding incentive programs designed to encourage and preserve real estate investment in lower income neighborhoods and communities, including low income tax credits, historic tax credits and new markets tax credits.

Mr. Alexander has served on a number of boards of corporations engaged in the affordable housing and behavioral and integrated healthcare industries in the state of Ohio and in the city of Cincinnati, including, Talbert House and its former mental health affiliate Centerpoint Health Inc., Bethany House Services Inc., a homeless mothers and children family shelter, the Cincinnati Development Fund, a community development financial institution and the Ohio Housing Council, an affordable housing advocacy organization.

Mr. Alexander is an honors graduate from the University of Cincinnati with a major in Accounting and a resident of the Delhi Township community of Cincinnati, Ohio.